

Secretary-General stresses global responsibility to prevent genocide

UN News

9 December 2010

Ban Ki-moon delivered a message to a seminar on "A Framework for Genocide Prevention" in which he said: "We all know the principle: each State has the primary responsibility to protect its own people. However, when states require assistance, the international community must be ready to help (...)"

Click here to read full story