

□ Stanley Foundation Releases Comprehensive Report on its January conference During January 15-17, 2010, the Stanley Foundation convened a conference in Tarrytown, New York, to discuss the way forward in implementing the Responsibility to Protect. The meeting provided a forum for reflection and discussion among representatives of United Nations member states, Secretariat officials, and experts on this important topic. The conference started with a keynote address by United Nations Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon. The executive summary highlights key conclusions and recommendations that surfaced in the course of three days of substantive dialogue.

Read □

executive summary