

Welcome!

I
International Coalition for the Responsibility to Protect 13 May 2011

We would like to officially welcome to the Coalition for the Responsibility to Protect member, the Canadian Lawyers for International Human Rights (CLAHR). They are a non-profit NGO established to promote human rights globally through legal education

- analyzing laws, institutions and practices affecting human rights;
- contributing to developing and strengthening laws and institutions that protect human rights;
- promoting awareness of human rights issues within the legal community;
- supporting lawyers, legal organizations and others dedicated to achieving human rights.

We look forward to working with them.

As we aim to diversify and expand our membership and be reaching out to new regions, we encourage
