

R2P Scholars Network Canadian Centre for the Responsibility to Protect May 17, 2013 The Canadian Centre for the Responsibility to Protect (CCR2P) is pleased to announce the launch of “R2P Scholars Network” this spring 2013.

The R2P Scholars Network is an international network of scholars and policy-makers working to advance the R2P principle nationally, regionally and globally (...).

Our R2P Scholars Network will be administered through the office of the CCR2P based at the Munk School of Global Affairs, University of Toronto. There will be an official launch of the R2P Scholars Network in October 2013 where all fellows will be invited to meet and mingle at our welcoming reception. Upon acceptance, all fellows will be given access to CCR2P’s research findings and various workshops and receptions for networking purposes throughout the year. (...)

Applications are now open for the following fellowship positions. Any interested scholar, researcher or a policy-maker in government, civil society or journalism fields anywhere in the world working on any aspect of R2P is welcome to apply by submitting a full CV, an application form (attached), a statement of interest (1 page max), and a writing sample on R2P to recruiting@ccr2p.org by September 30, 2013. (...)

See full
announcement
and application form.