

UN Security Council: The responsibility not to veto Angela Patnode September 30th, 2015

In a new blog post for the Coalition for the International Criminal Court, ICRtoP's Communications and Advocacy Officer Angela Patnode writes about the need for UN Security Council reform, a proposed Security Council Code of Conduct and the necessity of putting justice before international politics.

Click here to read the blog post.