

IR2P: The Individual Responsibility to Protect

iR2P focuses individual accountability to the Responsibility to Protect and acting in solidarity with those living in R2P situations and conflict affected areas. They have compiled a very comprehensive page on the situation on DRC which links to further information, and is a useful tool in mobilizing the grassroots community and encouraging action. Furthermore, there is a petition available for President-elect Barack Obama, encouraging action in the DRC. Some recommendations include applying international pressure and dialogue, strengthening MONUC, allowing greater humanitarian access, and reforming the FARDC.
